Adam Sidoti was elected Trustee in 2021. Prior to his election, he helped to organize and develop a grass roots movement to educate and drive awareness of a development at the southwest corner of Pfingsten and Willow roads. Adam worked toward building a consensus-driven, palatable solution by encouraging and facilitating communication between residents, Village staff, various Village Trustees and the developer.

He has lived in Glenview since 2011. He is the Vice President in charge of sales and legal operations for Expandopedia, serving as its business and legal operations leader. He maintains an active legal license in the State of Illinois and provides consultation services.

He earned a law degree from The John Marshall Law School, Chicago and a B.S. in Journalism with a focus on Economics from the University of Illinois.

Sidoti and his wife, Brittany, have two children. He coaches his daughter's Glenview Park District Dynamite (6U) hockey team and co-manages and organizes the Heartland Novice Hockey League, an adult league. He also serves as Social Media Chair for the Glenview Stars Hockey Association.
